HELP FOR SOLDIER BOYS

Women Get Together and Provide for Mor-Systematic Relief Work.

ADDITIONS TO GOVERNMENT ISSUES

Bed Ticks to Hold the Straw Together and Similar Articles to Ameliorate Camp Life to Be Furnished.

The first steps toward forming a relief corps to look after the needs and interests of the Council Bluffs soldier boys now encamped at Des Moines were taken yesterday afternoon by a number of patriotic women of this city, who met for the purpose at the armory of the Dodge Light Guards in the Masonic building. Quite a large number were present and a temporary organization was formed, which will be perfected at another meeting to be held today. this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the same place, and at which all women interested in the movement, whether they have relatives or not in the ranks, are invited to be present.

Of the temporary organization Mrs. M. L. Kirkland was made president; Mrs. J. C. Pryor, vice president; Mrs. A. S. Richard- and Andrew Lorenson against the Jarvis son, secretary, and Miss Laura Flickinger, Manufacturing company, the court sustreasurer. The following were appointed a tained the claims and gave judgment in committee on permanent organization and favor of the plaintiffs for $100 cach. to frame a constitution: Mrs. Donald Macrae, jr.; Mrs. E. Canning and Miss Beatrice Tinley.

The soldier boys in camp at Des Moines have nothing but straw to sleep upon and the women decided that the first thing for them to do was to make ticks and send them as soon as possible to Camp McKinley. With this end in view, Mrs. Macrae and Miss Schoentgen were appointed a committee to solicit muslin from the dry goods stores and at the meeting this afternoon the women will make the material up. Although the organization is only in its incipient stage, still many promises of assistance have been received and at the meeting yesterday afternoon the treasurer scribed sums of money to be expended as the women of the association deemed best. The work of the relief corps, for such t will be probably named—this being left to the committee on permanent organization to determine-cannot be carried out without money, and at the meeting this afternoon a soliciting committee will be appointed. The main object of the organization will be to systematize the efforts made in behalf of the soldiers and supply many little comforts that are not obtainable through the channels of army administration.
